Weekly Navo Band Newsletter for Beginner Band:

We had such a fun time at our costume party! Thank you for allowing your children to come hang out with us for a couple of hours...I saw some great costumes!

The students will be receiving their music for our next concert this week. Thank you in advance for helping to create a great practice environment for the students at home. Percussion students...your mallet unit starts soon. See Mr. Lennox's email concerning marimba rentals.

Please check with your students to make sure they have enough supplies (like reeds for the woodwind students). I've had a few students not be able to participate in class because they do not have any working reeds. I sell them individually from school to help save you a trip to the music store. If you need to know how much reeds are, don't hesitate to contact me.

This is just a reminder to send in band fee/instrument fee payments (if you did not pay the full amount in September). Those fees need to be paid by November 1st.
